AUTODESK 3ds Max 2020.3 –

Highlights

MAXtoA Improvements:

- Update to Arnold 5.4.0.1.
- Arnold lights are now supported in the viewport.
- Arnold procedural and alembic objects now have a viewport representation.
- Exposed the clip_geo shader.
- You can now opt to have no background.
- Arnold alembic object now supports layer information.
- You can now change render settings while in ActiveShade.
- All of a scene's shaders can be overridden simultaneously using the shader_override node.
- Baking normal and height maps is now supported.

Over 55 user-reported defects fixed, including:

- A user on the public forums identified issues with how SketchUp files were being imported. Issues were found with edge visibility and welding imported geometry.
- A manufacturing customer reported that JT files were being misrepresented in the Scene standards. After thorough consultation, this has been fixed in a manner consistent with standards.
- Over a dozen defects were fixed for Chamfer that caused unexpected results, and that it now uses world units.
- The Transform Toolbox has been fixed so it now uses world units.
- Several issues related to Unwrap UVW have been fixed, including:
 - Texture selection fixed when changing Material ID
 - Texture drop-down no longer loses all textures when reset
 - Select All and Inverse no longer selects hidden or frozen uvs
 - Zoom Extents Selected now zooms to the selected geometry as expected.
- An incompatibility between MAXScript and Python due to case sensitivity, which caused imported into MAXScript to be inaccessible, has been fixed.
- Qt was updated 5.12.4 to match the version of Qt used by 3ds Max. This fix will update where they become unusable, making them usable again.
